Hurricane Sweeps New Orleans Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—One man was killed in New Orleans and great damage which cannot be estimated at this hour was done along the Louisiana and Mississippi coasts by the hurricane which swept the coast line about mid-night and swept in a line down to Mobile, Ala.

Wires are down and all communication is cut off from New Orleans and it is impossible to get accurate data as to whether any lives were lost. A train on the Louisville and Nashville railroad was marooned and nothing has been heard from it. The big railroad bridge at Rigoletts is reported badly damaged and no trains are running on the Louisville and Nashville lines between here and Mobile. The wind reached a velocity of 45 miles an hour in New Orleans. Wires, fences, trees and some buildings were blown down. John MacFaul was caught in a live wire blown down, and electrocuted. Louisville and Nashville officials reported great damage done to their lines. Mobile reported a rising tide this morning.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22.—The Caribbean Sea hurricane reported winding its way along the gulf coast has settled down and turned northeast after nearing the Texas coast. Major General Buell, weather observer here, declared today. He issued warnings that the hurricane was the same as a year ago when the hurricane struck the gulf states.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The danger to shipping in the gulf states from the hurricane which swept the Gulf of Mexico is over the Weather Bureau announce today. The storm is diminishing in intensity it was said.

POLITICAL BOMB WILL EXPLODE IN WASHINGTON LATTER PART OF WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Subpoena issued here tonight by the Senate committee investigating campaign funds constitute the first step in what the Republican campaign manager heralds as a counter-move, that will completely discredit Governor Cox as a candidate for president.

The Republican emissaries, covering every move with secrecy, came to Washington today with evidence on what they style the "most startling development in the history of American politics." Following conferences with chairman, Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, the subpoena went out.

"It will kill one man politically here in Washington," was the statement made by one man handling the presentation of the case. Governor Cox's own charges of the raising of a $30,000,000 campaign fund, would, even if proven, dwindle in to insignificance, alongside of these developments, it was said. Clarence B. Miller, secretary of the Republican National Committee, who was in conference with the "evidence bearers" was likewise non-committal. He admitted that "something was coming," but refused to discuss even in a general way the nature of the revelation.

Admittedly it hinges upon the testimony of one man. Some suspicion that it might be Bernard Baruch, of New York, has been met with flat denials by those with knowledge. Apparently the plan is to hear this witness Thursday or Friday.

Tomorrow's session will be given over to cleaning up the tag end.

SOFT COAL OPERATORS WILL MAKE DECISION ON ULTIMATUM TOMORROW

President B. M. Clark, of Punxsutawney, has called a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Coal Operators Association for this district to meet in Punxsutawney tomorrow to consider the demands of the Policy Committee of the Miners.

The recent DuBois convention issued an ultimatum to the operators demanding a meeting within five days or a strike vote would be taken. The ultimatum expires on Friday and the question of meeting the miners will be discussed at Thursday's meeting.

WALL STREET BOMBERS ELUDE ALL EFFORTS OF OFFICERS IN PURSUIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Every investigating agency in the city continued today in their efforts to find some definite clue which would lead to those guilty of the explosion which shook lower Manhattan last Thursday. Department of Justice agents, police, experts in medicine and expert horse shoers were working on the case but had nothing new to report today. Appeal made to the people to return pieces of metal and wood picked up after the explosion revealed that souvenir hunters had gone away with valuable evidence.

REPORT RUSSIANS EVACUATED BAKU.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A Moscow wireless today reported the Poles had started a vigorous offensive in the Grodno region and that stubborn fighting was in progress. It was reported that the Russians had evacuated Baku.

THREE KILLED IN RAILROAD COLLISION.

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 22.—Three men were killed when two locomotives collided head on at Gauthier near the Cambria Steel Company this morning. The dead are Frank Bruneau, engineer, W. H. Walls, fireman, Charles M. Miller, brakeman. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of signals which sent two heavily loaded freight trains crashing into each other on the same track.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY TO MEET HERE TOMORROW

Clearfield County Republican women are to have their first meeting at practical politics tomorrow at a meeting which has been called for tomorrow afternoon at the Hotel Dimeling and every woman in the district is invited to attend the session which will be addressed by prominent speakers. The exact hour of the meeting has not been set owing to the inability of those in charge to get in communication with State Headquarters as to the time the speaker is to spend here but the hour is tentatively set for 2 P. M. and it is believed that those who put in their appearance at that hour will strike it about right to hear the addresses.

County Chairman A. L. Edwards of Osceola and Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope have been procured to make addresses and both of these gentlemen are well fortified with Republican doctrine. Not the least of the interest will center in the expected visit from Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Chief of the Department of Forestry. Mrs. Pinchot has been an ardent political worker for several years and will have a strong message for the women of Clearfield County.

Every woman in Clearfield County who is interested in the success of the Harding-Coolidge ticket is invited to be present to hear Mrs. Pinchot at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This meeting has been called by Mrs. Harry Boulton, woman member of the Republican State Committee, at the request of the State Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—"Democrats will be satisfied with a million dollar campaign fund," James W. Gerard, chairman of the Democratic Finance Committee told the Senate Expenditures investigation committee today.

HARDING GLAD AMERICANS ARE A FREE PEOPLE

In Speech to Indiana Delegation
Republican Nominee Declares
for Security at Home.

EUROPE HAS EVEN NOW
QUIT WILSON'S LEAGUE

Yet Democratic Party Leaders Would
Have Us Bound by Original Pact
With No American Safeguards.

"STEADY AMERICA!"

"Mindful of our splendid example and renewing every obligation of association in war, I want America to be the rock of security at home, resolute in righteousness and unalterable in security and supremacy of the law.

"Let us be done with wiggling and wobbling.

"Steady America! Let us assure good fortune to all."

—Senator Warren G. Harding in address before the Indiana delegation at Marion.

Marion, O. (Special).—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, in a speech delivered to a delegation from Indiana which called on him here to pledge the support of Indiana Republicans, declared that twice President Wilson had an opportunity to obtain ratification of the League of Nations covenant and that he put ratification aside because he would not accept reservations designed solely to safeguard American rights. Senator Harding said:

"I greet you in a spirit of rejoicing; not a rejoicing in the narrow personal or partisan sense, not in the gratifying prospects of party triumph; not in the contemplation of abundance in the harvest fields and ripening corn fields and maturing orchards; not in the reassuring approach of stability after a period of wiggling and wobbling which magnified our uncertainty—though all of these are ample for our wide rejoicing—but I rejoice that America is still free and independent and in a position of self-reliance and holds to the right of self-determination, which are priceless possessions in the present turbulence of the world.

"Let us suppose the senate had ratified the peace treaty containing the league covenant as submitted to it by the president in July of last year, what would be the situation confronting our common country today? To my mind there is but one answer. Before this day we would have been called upon to fulfill the obligations which we had assumed under Article 10 of the league covenant, to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland 'as against external aggression.'

Sympathy for Poland.

"I shall not now attempt to measure the boundless sympathy for the just aspirations and restored independence of Poland. Our present concern is the international situation which Poland has brought to our attention. 'The council of the League of Nations would have reasoned, and reasoned correctly, that the United States could furnish the munitions and, if necessary, the men to withstand the hordes advancing from Russia far more easily than could the exhausted nations of Europe. Moreover, inasmuch as this would be the first test of the scheme of world government which was formulated and demanded by the President, speaking for the United States, the fact of a special responsibility, resting upon our shoulders, manifestly would have been undeniable. Undoubtedly the league council, in 'advising upon the means' by which the obligations to Poland should be fulfilled, as provided in the covenant, would have so held, and probably the conscience of America, certainly the opinion of the world, would have sustained that judgment.

"The conclusion that our country might now be confronted by such a situation, if the senate had ratified the league covenant, requires no stretch of the imagination. None can deny that it is possible. To many candid minds, as to my own, such a distressing situation will seem highly probable. Let us assume that the ratification had taken place. Let us assume, further, that the performance of the allotted task required the waging of war upon the Russian people, us, of course, it would, what would result? What would of necessity have to result? Nothing necessarily, we are glibly informed, since only the Congress can declare war, and the Congress might reject the appeal of the executive. But would the Congress do that? Could the Congress do that without staining indelibly the honor of the nation?

Answer is "No."

"I answer 'No,' and I say it not on any such flimsy ground. Back of me

SHORT SHRIFT FOR SMART ALEC WHO RILED THE COURT

Gino Ponjelli of Coalport, was convicted in criminal court yesterday afternoon on a charge of failing to support an illegitimate child. When the jury had returned its verdict Ponjelli was haled before the Bar for sentence. Judge Bell asked the defendant what he proposed to do toward the supporting the child. Ponjelli had been Americanized sufficient to cause him to employ the Yankee style of answering another one, countering by saying "What is this one woman going to do about paying me for my two days and my expense attending this court."

Judge Bell was sort of nonplussed for a moment, but it was just a moment. With anger in his voice and a choleric flush overspreading his features, the Judge rasped out, "Well, young man; I don't know whether she is going to do anything about it or not, but I do know what I am going to do about it. I am going to sentence you to pay a fine of $500 and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for the next six calendar months and you will stand committed until this sentence is complied with."

The court's ready response sort of knocked the wind out of Ponjelli and as he was leaving the court room in the custody of the sheriff Judge Bell relented long enough to notify him he would have the coming week to think it over and if he could think up some way of providing for the child's future welfare he might suspend the sentence.

ROAD HOG IS SAID TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR AUTO MISHAP

Howard Knarr, son of Martin Knarr, of near Troutville, is lying at the home of his brother, Charles Knarr of Troutville in a serious condition the result of an automobile accident Friday evening last.

The young man, aged 21 years, with four others started from Troutville at about 6:30 Friday evening for the farm of William Koehler, about a mile south of the town. Koehler's house having been destroyed by fire that afternoon. When passing the hotel at Troutville they met another car going in the opposite direction. The approaching car was speeding and seemed inclined to keep the middle of the road. Just before reaching the car driven by young Knarr the driver of the other auto swerved sharply out of fear that his car would be struck. Knarr also turned off the road almost at right angle. The car turned over on its side throwing all the occupants out. Knarr was picked up in an unconscious condition and after receiving medical attention at the hotel was taken to the home of his brother nearby. He remained unconscious until late yesterday afternoon and is still in a stupor. It is feared his skull is fractured and his condition is most critical.

The driver of the auto who was responsible for the accident is said to have turned off his lights and speed out of town without stopping.

LITTLE CHANGE IN CONDITION OF LORD MAYOR

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Little change was apparent in the condition of Terence MacSwiney the hunger striking Lord Mayor of Cork as he entered the 41st day of his fasting. Relatives commented bitterly on the English newspaper reports of MacSwiney's condition. They declared it was "an attempt to travel the offerings of MacSwiney."

WOMEN HOLD THE BALANCE OF POWER

Maine Election Proves That
the Women Vote Will Decide
Who is to be President

WILL VOTE ON ISSUE ALONE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—About 9,000,000 women will vote in the November election and they undoubtedly hold the balance of political power. This statement is based on a computation made from the woman's vote in the Maine election.

About 80,000 women voted in the Maine Election. Based upon the census of 1910 that number is 32 percent of the number of women 21 years of age who live in Maine. The Maine women number, according to the census, 248,309.

In the United States, according to the latest census statistics, there are 26,883,566 women of voting age. If the ratio of 32 percent which existed in the Maine election prevails in all the States, and it probably will as the women generally will want to vote for the first time, there will be cast in the November election an aggregate woman vote of 8,602,741, or nearly nine millions. In the Northern States the percentage will be higher, and in the Southern States lower because in the "Solid South" the black man is largely disfranchised, and the negro women will receive the same political discrimination in that section. But the Nation's average probably will be about 32 percent, which will give nine millions.

Similar statistics show that there are 29,577,890 men of voting age in the election of 1916 there were cast 18,528,743 ballots, 62 percent of the total male population 21 years of age. It can hardly be expected that so large a percentage of the women will vote, but it may be safely said that at least 32 percent of them will.

Therefore it is evident to all observers that the women now hold the political balance of power. In the Maine election about 75 percent of the women voted the Republican ticket. If that percentage should prevail in all the States north of the Mason and Dixon line and in the West a republican landslide of unprecedented magnitude would occur. That landslide is confidently expected by the Republican managers and indeed in Washington is practically already acknowledged by Democratic observers.

But it will not require 75 percent of the nine million women voting the Republican ticket to cause a landslide to Harding and Coolidge. If 22 percent of the women voters in New York participate in the election it will add nearly a million votes in the Empire State. In 1916 Hughes carried New York by more than 100,000, the total vote being 1,706,354. Had the women voted then a 100,000 plurality would have been increased several times over.

In Pennsylvania a 32 percent ratio would have added nearly 750,000 woman's votes to the total of nearly 1,300,000 cast for Hughes in 1916. Hughes carried Pennsylvania by 181,950, or about one fourth of the women votes that may be cast in Pennsylvania in November.

Wilson carried Ohio in 1916 by 89,003. In Ohio the 32 percent ratio means nearly half a million women all vote, eleven times Wilson's plurality in 1916.

There can be no question but that the women now hold the key to the national political situation and can throw victory to Republicans or Democrats. Judging from the way they voted in the Maine election it would seem that a great majority of the newly enfranchised citizens are preparing to line up throughout the country, except in the South, for Harding and Coolidge.

Every intelligent observer must agree that the result in Maine was a complete repudiation of the League of Nations by the women, and a tremendous Republican victory, which a ominous of Democratic defeat in November. Women can justly claim a great share of the victory in Maine. Had the women voted for the League the victory would have been equally significant of democratic victory in November.

There is something wrong with the mental twist of a man who admits that he likes restaurant pie.

Nearly every man imagines if he was making a lot of money most of his troubles would disappear.

There are some folks who seem to be disappointed if things do not turn out as badly as they imagined they would.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who stopped his newspaper and then waited to see the announcement that the publisher had failed?

MAKE SUCH CRIMES IMPOSSIBLE

The necessity of taking steps to make a repetition of the crime more difficult is no less important than the apprehension and conviction of the plotters responsible for the explosion of the bomb near J. P. Morgan & Co.'s New York office, with appalling toll of life and destruction of property.

First there should be a careful scrutiny of the regulations dealing with the manufacture and transportation of explosives for the purpose of ascertaining if they contain loopholes that should be closed against anarchists and other criminals who desire to use them for nefarious purposes. Possession of T. N. T., with which the bomb was loaded, makes the possessor such a potential, if not actual, menace to the safety of those in his vicinity that none should be allowed to have it except by government license. This would work no hardship, for a vast majority of the people never have use for T. N. T., and those who have legitimate reasons for using it should not object to setting forth in detail what they propose to do with it. If a record were available of all possessors of this dangerous substance, the task of tracing that used in the wall street blast would be greatly simplified.

It was no mere coincidence that this explosion occurred on that particular and famous thoroughfare known as Wall street and that the greatest damage was wrought to the building of a banking firm of worldwide reputation. For many years "Wall street" has been held up by professional demagogues before impressionable minds as the center and fount of all evil. The easiest way to gain the applause, and often the votes, of the ignorant is to assail the "money devils" of "Wall street." The great financial establishments which have their headquarters in that district have been pilloried by street corner orators and by political, stump speakers as the strongholds of special privilege and corruption, fortresses of money lords whose powers extend throughout the country to rob and oppress the "common people."

But terrible as has been the toll of this latest tragedy, the hearts of men are made only stronger by terrorism. Even had the explosive wiped out the entire firm of Morgan and leveled the sub-treasury to the curb, men would merely set about to build again, grimly and more securely than before. A world unshaken before the hundred thousand belching guns of Prussianism will not be frightened by the solitary act of a pervert.

It all goes to show that society is, after all, more primitive than we think, else it would be able to prevent such outrageous occurrences. And it shows, too, that society is more stable than we think, for, in the dark, it is unafraid.

SPECIAL ADDED ATTRACTIONS

JEWISH HOLIDAY.

Jewish residents of the city are today celebrating the Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur," the tenth day of the month of Tishri. The day begins at sunset yesterday and ends at sunset this evening. The thought underlying the day is expressed in the scriptural word: "On this day he will atone for you, to purify you from your sins." It is a day, therefore, of reconciliation of man with his fellow-man and with God, and comes as a climax to the holiday season which began Sunday September 12th with the New Year's Day and continued through the ten days of penitence. Local Hebrews worshiped today at special services in the Mik rooms.

There Are Many Bettys.

Betty was an aggravating child, and the children would seldom play with her long at a time, but got out of patience with her and left her to herself. Betty returned from a call on Betty one day and was asked why she came home so soon. "Why," Betty replied with some vehemence, "it ruins any one's temper so to play with Betty."

unsheathed the sword some eighteen years ago for the first time in the history of the world, in the name of humanity, and we gave proof to the world at that time of an unselfish nation. Now, whether it is the fate, or fortune, or travail of destiny, it has come to us to unsheath the sword again, not alone for humanity's sake, through that splendid inspiration will be involved—but to unsheath the sword against a great power to the maintenance of the rights of the republic, in the maintenance which will give to us a new guaranty of nationality. That's the great thing, and I want it known, Mr. President and senators, that this is the impelling thought with me for one, when I cast my vote.

For Same Guaranty Today.

"It is for that same guaranty of nationality that I stand today, and still continue to stand indelibly, so long as I shall be permitted to live. The independence of our great republic is to me a priceless and sacred inheritance. Time was when an American did not hesitate to proclaim himself a patriot. To do so now, I am well aware, is sometimes to invite the sneers of cynicism. But why should any true American not be free to say: 'I am a patriot, wholly devoted to my country, which I hold to be God's best inspiration to man for higher attainment and the promotion of the world's best civilization?'"

"But I have a special reason for making this reference today. I challenge the statement that the patriotism which holds American first comprehends either narrowness or selfishness, or as implying such suspicion and jealousy of other peoples."

"To assert, as some have asserted needlessly, that those of us who honestly believe that America can best serve all mankind as America, free and untrammeled, rather than as one in a probable minority among many states in merged world government, lack consciousness of the rightful demands of humanity, is to utter a gross and unpardonable libel. To attribute meanness to those of us who, in the performance of our public duty, refused to participate in what we sincerely regarded as a betrayal of our own country in the interest of others, is to discredit the intelligence and discrimination of the great mass of American people who directly, by their votes, put us in our positions of trust. For myself, I yield to no man a willingness now, in eagerness, to contribute my share to the assistance of the stricken peoples of Europe. I include all of them and speak with a genuinely sympathetic heart, whether it is to mention devastated France, or sorely-tried Italy, or nobly-struggling Poland, or distracted and misguided Russia, or gallant little Belgium, or pitifully deceived Austria, or the ruthless invader, Germany, which came to the supreme tragedy through a leadership which brought disaster to her misguided people."

"It was with that feeling of sympathy and desire to serve, that most reluctantly and with grave misgivings, as I announced at the time, I with reservations designed to preserve our essential liberty of action. The record is made, and under the same conditions, confronted by the same alternative, I should vote now as I voted then."

Conditions Have Changed.

"But the conditions have changed. Experience has brought enlightenment. We know now that the league constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventive of wars. It is so obviously impotent that it has not even been tried. The original league, mistakenly conceived and unreasonably insisted upon, has undoubtedly passed beyond the possibility of restoration. The manner judgment of the world will be that it deserved to pass for the very simple reason that, contrary to all of the tendencies developed by the civilizing processes of the world, it rested upon the power of might, not of right."

"The assertion is made frequently that through the surrender of our nationality we might have saved the life of the covenant—that is to say, that, although twenty-eight nations could not make it function, one added to the twenty-eight would have achieved a glowing success, provided, always, that the one were America."

"This pays to America the tribute of exceptional influence, but I suggest that if the world is dependent upon our action to bring about the supreme realization, then we ought to have the say about our own freedom in participating therein. But let us consider what is meant by this reliance upon America. What can it signify if not that it is to the United States, and to the United States alone, that the other twenty-eight nations look for the bene-and shew, the money, the munitions and the men to sustain the entire organization, not as an agency of peace, but as an armed force?"

A Telling Admission.

"A few days ago a delegation of an organization which calls itself a Society for the Prevention of War appeared to the premier of Great Britain to unite and use the powers of the world in defense of Poland, Armenia and the Dardanelles. The British premier replied, according to his remarks quoted by the newspapers, to the effect that, while the formation of 'an international army' would be 'an ideal solution,' it could not be accomplished because the European nations could not furnish the troops and the United States had 'withdrawn from co-operation—a polite and diplomatic phrase and more exactly meaning, of course, that the senate of the United States had not completed the partial obligation assumed by the President to do that very thing—that is, to 'furnish the troops.' Could a clearer indication of what would have been expected of this country as a member of the league be desired? Hardly. Some, too, think, or say they think, that this extraordinary service should be rendered. I do not agree with them, but, assuming that they are right, I venture to note that nothing stands in the way of performance. The President has only to call upon Congress to declare war, and to confer upon him specific authority to raise armies for the protection of the powers which, though recently associated with, are still foreign to our own republic."

"It is reasonably safe to assume, however, that the President will not pursue this course. Fortunately, he is under no 'compelling moral obligation' under the league to do so. His recent unhappy experience, moreover, in asking Congress to send American boys to police Armenia would hardly encourage repetition of a request already courteously but quite firmly declined by the Congress. What then, in like circumstances, would be the answer of the British premier himself? In his own words, addressing a meeting of the Coalition Liberals on August 12 last, according to the press reports, he said:

"When the terrible question of peace or war has to be decided, our first duty as a government is to the people, who trust us not to commit their treasure to any unjustifiable adventure. Nothing but the most imperative call of national honor, national safety and national freedom can justify war. Before this country is committed to it, even in the most limited form, we must be satisfied that these are in peril."

"I quote these telling words, my countrymen, with the utmost satisfaction, because with one amendment they express to a nicety my own position. I take for granted that the prime minister meant to include in 'treasure' the greatest treasure of all but, for myself, I should leave nothing else to be safeguarded by those of us who hold the trust of the people. It goes without saying, but cannot be too often repeated, is the manhood of the nation."

Will Not Misuse Power.

"Now, it may appear to you that I have been speaking chiefly in the negative. I make the admission. What is more, I might continue to do so almost indefinitely without disadvantage to our cause. So many things have been done by the present expiring administration that no power on earth could induce me to do, that I cannot even attempt to recount them. I may remark casually, however, that if I should be, as I fully expect to be, elected President of this just and honorable republic, I will not empower an assistant secretary of the navy to draft a constitution for helpless neighbors in the West Indies and jam it down their throats at the point of bayonets borne by United States marines. We have a higher service for our gallant marines than that. Nor will I misuse the power of the executive to cover with a veil of secrecy repeated acts of unwarranted interference in domestic affairs of the little republics of the western hemisphere, such as in the past few years have not only made enemies of those who should be our friends, but have rightfully discredited our country as their trusted neighbor."

Will Submit to No Wrong.

"On the other hand, I will not or shall not, as you prefer, submit to any wrong against any American citizen, with respect to either his life or his property, by any government. This statement is made in all solemnity, with civility for none and friendship for all. If it particularly applies to Mexico, the application has been directed by the robbery and murder of hundreds of our own people in that unhappy country who were lawfully there and were entitled to protection. One must admit that these outrages upon Americans are largely the consequence of the wiggling and wobbling, the supine waiting of our own government, though the admission neither helps the hurt, nor gives the hope of security for the future while the present administration remains in power, or when one in 'complete accord' succeeds it."

"This admonition is not directed exclusively toward our next door neighbor to whom we would gladly hold forth a helping hand, and whom primarily, certainly in preference to far off peoples in Europe, Asia and Africa, it is our manifest duty to serve with a whole heart and generous tolerance. It is intended for a plain notice to every government on the face of the earth that the entire resources of this nation are pledged to maintain the sacredness of American lives and the just protection of American properties."

"The line of demarcation between our attitude and that of our political opponents is perfectly plain. The president has made his position clear by his acts no less than by his words. Twice there came to him an opportunity to obtain retribution at the hands of the senate and twice he put the opportunity aside, because he would not accept reservations designed to limit his power."

WORRY AND WRINKLES

Despondency is a thing of evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put a note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, "Don't Worry"

Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.

A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are to a woman's body the telegraph system which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the ideal woman's tonic for such conditions. When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land. Put up in tablets or liquid.

ALTOONA, PA.—"I used to suffer a great deal with backaches and inward weakness, and I became run-down and very nervous. One of my neighbors recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to me and I took it with very satisfactory results; my backaches left me and I have had no return of inward weakness. I am no longer nervous, but in perfect health, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. ROSE ROWLES, 1324 14th Avenue.

MANY PEOPLE REPORT BIG GAINS IN WEIGHT

Thousands of Thin, Frail People Are Restored To Health and Strength By Tanlac.

MANY REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE TOLD

People in All Walks of Life Tell What Celebrated Medicine Has Done For Them.

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with Tanlac and that one that stands out more prominently than any other perhaps, is the very large number of well-known men and women from all parts of the country who have recently reported astonishing and rapid increases in weight as a result of its use.

When so many well-known people of unquestioned integrity make statement after statement each corroborating the other, the truth of such statements can no longer be doubted.

Thousands have testified that this famous medicine has completely restored them to health and strength, after every other medicine and the most skilled medical treatment have failed.

Mrs. F. Davis, 55 Beaty Ave., Toronto, Ontario, says:

"I have changed so much for the better that when friends meet me on the street they don't know me, and no wonder, for I have gained thirty pounds in weight. I was a sick woman for ten years and then a severe shock shattered my nervous system and I had a complete breakdown. The first thing Tanlac did was to make me sleep better and soon my appetite improved and I began to eat as I hadn't done for years. My whole condition steadily improved and I gained in strength and weight rapidly. For ten years I have been trying to find something to restore my health, so you can imagine how thankful I am for what Tanlac has done for me."

Kansas Farmer Talks
H. W. Boring a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park Kansas, says:

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past. During the two years I suffered, I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac and it seemed made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion what I eat, I never suffer any bad after effects."

One of the most remarkable cases on record is that of Mrs. Viola Ives, of 315 Cross street, Little Rock, Ark. whose statement appears below:

"In May of 1913," said Mrs. Ives, "I suffered a complete breakdown of my nerves and my entire system gave way. About six weeks afterwards I was carried to the hospital. I became perfectly helpless -- couldn't move any part of my body and just lay there in bed for five months, not knowing anything or anybody. I was brought home in October, 1913, and tried all kinds of medicine and everything I was told about.

"I read about so many people getting relief by taking Tanlac and my husband got me a bottle. After taking three bottles I began to feel better. I have taken several bottles of Tanlac now and I can walk anywhere and sleep like a child. When I took my first dose of Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and twenty-two pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two—an actual gain of forty pounds since I started on Tanlac."

Maize Man Testifies
Samuel Halloway 98 Elm St., Portland, Maine, a well-known resident of Portland for forty years, says:

"Before I started taking Tanlac I was almost a complete physical wreck and had lost so much weight I was scarcely more than a frame, but I had not been taking it long before I began to pick up, and I gained twenty pounds in a short time. For a year past I had scarcely any appetite to speak of and I had not any sleep. I was so badly run down and weak I could not get any work as I was barely able to leave my bed. After the other, I now feel twenty years younger than I was before taking Tanlac and am enjoying the best of health."

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Told Operation Would Be Her Only Hope

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds" was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden residing at 559 Mill Street Huntsville, Ala.

"When I began taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh 125 pounds, and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture, and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope.

"I had made all preparations for the operation and called in my sister to tell her good-bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for awhile. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room, I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it and get a bottle."

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once.

"I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel as if I have been made all over again into a new woman."

Another remarkable case was that of John M. Crabtree a general merchant of Five Mile Station A, Dallas, Texas:

"I have actually gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy good health after suffering for twenty years," said Mr. Crabtree.

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months, before I started taking Tanlac, I had to live almost entirely on cereals. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and was unable to do anything at all and I fell off in weight to 118 pounds.

"After using my third bottle of Tanlac I found I had increased in weight from 118 pounds to 152 pounds making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like another man."

Captain Jeff D. Riggs, popular Y. & M. V. engineer, running between Vicksburg and New Orleans and residing at 2029 Pearl street, Vicksburg, in speaking of his experience with Tanlac, said: "Yes, sir, it's an actual fact, I have gained twenty-five pounds on Tanlac."

"When I began taking the medicine," continued Captain Riggs, "I was simply a nervous and physical wreck and had dropped down in weight from one hundred and forty to one hundred and ten pounds."

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac, have gained twenty-five pounds and I feel like a new man."

Thousands of other people all over the country have reported the same astonishing gains in weight after taking Tanlac. Among these are: Mrs. E. O. Wilson, of 197 Bass St., Atlanta, Ga., who gained 25 pounds; Mrs. W. C. Cochran, of Juliaetta, Idaho, who gained 22 pounds; Mrs. Doll Davis, of 108 Sannel Ave., Peoria, Ill., who gained 30 pounds; Charles E. Shaffer, 508 W. Charleston St., Portland, Ore., who gained 24 pounds; Mrs. Amelia Mann, R. F. D. No. 2, Ogden Utah, who gained 25 pounds; W. S. Hukill, 7308 Park Ave., Tacoma, Wash., who gained 20 pounds; Mrs. B. W. Smith, 3115 Burdett St., Omaha, Neb., who gained 35 pounds; Fred W. Samuels, 710 Market street, San Francisco, Cal., who gained 24 pounds, and many others, too numerous to mention.

ed solely to safeguard American rights. He still holds Article 10 to be the heart of the covenant. So does the Democratic platform. So does the Democratic nominee. To assume that the nominee would accept the reservations rejected by the President and denounced by the party platform is to impugn his integrity. To insinuate, as those who in proclaiming themselves for the Democratic candidate and the league with reservations' do insinuate that he would pursue such a course in seeking ratification is not to pay him a compliment, but rather to challenge his sincerity.

"For myself I do not question for a moment the truth of what the Democratic nominee says on this subject. He has flatly said he is 'in favor of going in' on the basis announced by the President. I am not. That is the whole difference between us, but it is a most vital one, because it involves the disparity between a world court of justice supplemented by a world association for conference, on the one hand, and the council of the league, on the other.

The Difference.
"The difference between a court of international justice and the council created by the league covenant is simple but profound.

"The one is a judicial tribunal to be governed by fixed and definite principles of law administered without passion or prejudice. The other is an association of diplomats and politicians whose determinations are sure to be influenced by considerations of expediency and national selfishness.

"I do not mean to say, nor do I mean to permit any such construction, that I would decline to co-operate with other nations in an honest endeavor to prevent wars. Nobody living would take that position. The only question is one of method or of practicability within the bounds prescribed by fundamental principles.

"There are distinctly two types of international relationship. One is an offensive and defensive alliance of great powers, like that created at Versailles, to impose their will upon the helpless peoples of the world. Frankly, I am opposed to such a scheme as that, and I speak knowingly when I say that the associated powers, with whom we fought the war, were reluctant to accept such a proposition.

"I am opposed to the very thought of our republic becoming a party to so great an outrage upon other peoples, who have as good a right to seek their political freedom as we had in 1776 and have the same right to developing entrance under the inspiration of nationality as we held for ourselves.

The Other Type.
"The other type is a society of free nations, or an association of free nations, or a league of free nations, animated by considerations of right and justice, instead of might and self-interest, and not merely proclaimed agency in pursuit of peace, but so organized and so participated in as to make the actual attainment of peace a reasonable possibility. Such an association I favor with all my heart, and I would make no fine distinction as to whom credit is due.

"This is proposing no new thing. This country is already a member of such a society—The Hague tribunal, which, unlike the league of Versailles, is still functioning, and within a few weeks will resume its committee sessions under the chairmanship of an American representative.

"In that body we have the framework of a really effective instrumentality of enduring peace. The fact that the tribunal did not prevent the great war is, of course, manifest, but the cause of the failure is no less apparent. Germany, already secretly determined upon a ruthless invasion, was able to prevent the adoption of measures which might have proved effectual. The condition now is wholly different. Not only Germany, but the entire world has profited to the extent of an awful object lesson, the impression of which cannot be erased from the human mind for generations to come. The horrors of war and the eagerness for peace have become universal. What once seemed at The Hague to be a mere academic discussion has become a positive, outstanding need of facing terrifying actualities. This makes vastly easier the task of so strengthening The Hague tribunal as to render its just decrees either acceptable or enforceable. It is not uncommon for the advocates of the league of Versailles to contrast unfavorably The Hague tribunal upon the ground that the tribunal 'lacks teeth.'

Let's Install the Teeth.
"Very well, then, let's put teeth into it. If, in the failed league of Versailles, there can be found machinery which the tribunal can use properly and advantageously, by all means let it be appropriated. I would even go further. I would take and combine all that is good and excuse all that is bad from both organizations. This statement is broad enough to include the suggestion that if the league which has heretofore riveted our considerations and apprehensions, has been so entwined and interwoven into the peace of Europe, that its good must be preserved in order to stabilize the peace of that continent, then it can be amended or revised so that we may still have a remnant of world aspirations in 1918 build into the world's highest conception of helpful co-operation in the ultimate realization.

"I believe humanity would welcome the creation of an international association for conference and a world court whose verdicts upon justiciable questions, this country in common with all nations would be both willing and able to uphold. The decision of such a court or the recognition

SADLER BEATS OUT OTHER STATES IN ROAD BUILDING

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21—The Pennsylvania state highway department has accomplished more in road building during the present season than has been accomplished in any other state east of the Mississippi river, according to J. F. Mixer "road scout," for the Automobile Blue Book, who was in Harrisburg recently.

Since road construction commenced this spring 165 miles of new road have been built in Pennsylvania and 50 miles of base on which the surface will be put down within a short time. It was announced by officials of the highway department.

"In a great many states all constructive work because of the inability of highway officials to obtain materials and transportation, has been stopped," Mixer said.

This state has had comparatively little difficulty in securing not only all needed materials but sufficient labor from the surplus in this state to carry out its road building program to the letter, the highway department announced.

RED CROSS NURSES ENLARGING SCOPE OF PUBLIC GOOD

Plans for Red Cross public health nursing in the Clearfield Chapter are rapidly taking definite form under the efficient direction of Miss Smythe our supervising nurse. At present there are two nurses in the field Miss Witherow and Miss Lochard who are going the grounds of the township schools with the doctors helping with the physical examinations for the purpose to follow up work. It is hoped that all of the schools in the Chapter will be visited before Winter sets in. Miss Smythe is at the Grampian Fair this week conducting a Red Cross emergency booth for first aid treatment in case of sickness or accident. She will also distribute literature and talk to the mothers in regard to the public health program of the American Red Cross as it affects the Clearfield Chapter. At the Clearfield County Fair, Sept. 28-30 Oct. 1 the Red Cross will provide a tent which will be used as a Rest Room for tired mothers with their babies. There will be cribs and bassinets provided for the children. Appliances for heating milk and a nurse will always be in charge who will talk to the mothers.

Low Wages in Colombia.

Wages of the native washers and placer miners in the Tigul region in Colombia average from 25 cents to $1 per day. The earnings of the native miners depend on whether the ground is worked before or after a flood, which causes natural riffles to form in bars along the stream.

That Was Long Enough.

Making Headway

"MOVE the freight!" is the cry of the day. The need of increased transportation and its vital relation to the welfare of the country were never so widely appreciated as now. It should be encouraging to the public to know that the railroads are fast getting back into their old stride.

During the month of August the New York Central Lines moved from stations and connecting lines 927,329 loaded cars. This is an increase of 53,129 cars over the same month of 1919, and the greatest number of loaded cars moved in any month of this year.

Prevailing conditions have brought especially heavy and imperative demands for transportation of basic necessities, particularly coal and ore.

These lines moved during the month of August, 27,667 cars of ore; an increase of 15,227 over the month of August, 1919, and by far the biggest movement of any month this year.

COAL loaded at mines on these lines during the month of August totalled 63,011 cars, an increase of 5,134 over the corresponding period of last year, and the heaviest loading of any month of the present year.

This performance, made possible by the earnestness and determination of New York Central workers, indicates the spirit as well as the physical strength of the system. Backed by larger investment and with the delivery of the new equipment now under construction, even these records will ultimately be surpassed.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS IN PEACE TIME Aiding Poland

Out for the work of American Red Cross agents in all regions of Poland during the last twelve months, hundreds of thousands of people in that tragic country today would be at the sad, victims of hunger, disease and exposure. The job in Poland is one of tremendous proportions and cannot be abandoned for many months to come. It is a task for a Red Cross worker at the throat of a situation where hundreds of undernourished women and children are fed daily.

Marmot Skins in Demand.

A large business is done in Manchurian marmot skins. The marmot is very much like a woodchuck, but it possesses a finer coat than does our woodchuck. Thousands of these skins are shipped from ports in northern Manchuria by parcel post through the Japanese post office, but skins of the cheaper grade are forwarded by freight in the usual way.

Covered Them All.

At Leicester, England, there is an inn upon the wall of which years ago a pastor wrote: "I pray for all." The village lawyer, seeing in this a means for free advertising, wrote underneath: "I plead for all." One day a farmer thought he was justified in adding: "I feed all," and an army officer passing through the village left: "I fight for all." But an unknown author added the last line by writing: "I take them all—the devil." The host, not wishing to show any partiality, has hung out his sign: "The House of All Five."

mentations of such a conference could be accepted without sacrificing on our part or asking any other power to sacrifice one iota of its nationality.

"The Democratic nominee has spoken about America abandoning her associates in war and deserting the allied nations in establishing the league of Versailles. I do not think it longer necessary to challenge that statement or pass further opinion upon the unfortunate league. It has already been abandoned by Europe, which had gone so far as to accept it by formal agreement in treaty. On this subject, we are fully informed at first hand. Only the other day the British premier said unreservedly that the essential co-operation of America might involve some change, at any rate, in the form of the covenant," and he added, with characteristic outspokenness, "it is quite possible it might be a change for the better."

"Listen, further, to the wise and far-seeing, former British ambassador, who was not permitted to present his credentials to our executive.

On Our Own Terms.

"As long," said Viscount Grey, hardly a month ago, "as long as the richest, most powerful, the greatest, both for population and territory, of the civilized countries of the world stands outside the league, the league will be unable to fulfill its destiny. To put it in quite plain terms, the Americans must be told that if they will only join the league they can practically name their own terms." Undoubtedly that is the fact. I ask: Is there any good reason why we should not avail ourselves of this privilege? I do not mean in any arrogant or selfish way, but simply as a matter of fairness and right to our own people. Surely it is becoming, and a duty as well, to safeguard our own people, since it is we who are the main contributors, while asking nothing for ourselves except to participate in a contribution to the promotion of world peace."

A Valued Suggestion.

"Viscount Grey continues: 'The Americans should be entrusted with the task of drafting a reconstruction scheme.' Then he suggests further that 'a committee of the senate—we must never forget the senate's rights and duties in regard to foreign affairs being re-enforced by the members of the house of representatives, and also by nominees of the President, and Supreme Court—could draw up suggestions for the reconstruction of the league, which would be consonant with the feeling not of one, but of all parties in America.'

"Frankly, I value that suggestion very highly, because it is proffered obviously in a helpful and friendly spirit and reveals an important Old World opinion on the necessity of amendment, revision or reconstruction. It comprehends substantially what I would propose to do if elected president. I do not mean precisely that. It would be clearly unwise to undertake specific suggestions or to attempt to pass upon suggestions now. What is in my mind is the wisdom of calling into real conference the ablest and most experienced minds of this country, from whatever walks of life they may be derived and without regard to party affiliation, to formulate a definite, practical plan along the lines already indicated for the consideration of the controlling foreign powers. "The objection, strongly uttered in some quarters, that this course would involve the reconvening of the entire convention may be regarded as a very slight one. The acceptance of our proposals by the few principal nations would undoubtedly be followed promptly by the acceptance on the part of the minor members of the alliance.

"There would be no material delay. One can not disregard the leadership or have any doubt about the influence of the principal allied and associated powers. Insofar as I could do so, without disregarding the proprieties, I should give very earnest and practically undivided attention to this very vital subject from the day of my election and I should ask others to do likewise as a matter of public and patriotic duty. Indeed, I should hope to have behind me, after the decision on the national referendum we are soon to have, a country wholly united in earnest endeavor to achieve a true solution of this problem upon which the future civilization so largely depends.

Already Announced.

"I have already announced that I shall urge prompt passage of the resolution, vetoed by the president, declaring at an end the preposterous condition of technical war when we are actually at peace. Simultaneously, I shall naturally advise the resumption by the Congress of its exceptional powers, which have been vested by war legislation in the executive. I have no expectation whatever of finding it necessary or advisable to negotiate a separate peace with Germany.

"In view of the simple fact that the allied powers with whom we were associated in the war have already formally concluded their peace, the passage of the peace resolution by congress would merely give formal recognition to an obvious fact.

Our Unselfishness Emphasized.

"Let us take stock for a moment of America in the world, eye, and of America at home. The end of the war found our unselfishness emphasized to all mankind, and the garlands of world leadership were bestowed from every direction. We had only to follow the inheritance which led to our eminence, to rivet the gaze of all peoples upon our standards of national righteousness and our conception of international justice. Moreover, the world was ready to give us its confidence. It was the beckoning opportunity of the centuries, not for the glorification of the new world republic, but for America to hold every outpost of advancing civilization and invite all nations to join the further advance to heights dreamed of, but never approached before. But force of example was flung aside for force of armed alliance. We neglected our readjustments and restorations at home, and the cruel sacrifice of millions of lives and billions of treasure left us and the world groping in uncertainty and anxiety instead of revealing us in the sunlight of a new day, with lines formed, ready for the onward march of peace and all its triumphs.

Let's Resume Our Place.

"Mindful of our splendid example and renewing every obligation of association in war, I want America to be the rock of security at home, resolute in righteousness and unalterable in security and supremacy of the law. Let us be done with wiggling and wobbling. Steady, America! Let us assure good fortune to all. We may maintain our eminence as a great people at home and resume our high place in the estimate of the world. Our moral leadership was lost when 'Ambition' sought to superimpose a reactionary theory of discredited autocracy upon the progressive principle of living, glowing democracy. My chief aspiration, my countrymen, if clothed with power, will be to regain that lost leadership not for myself, not even for my party, though honoring and trusting it as I do, but for my country, the country that I love from the bottom of my heart and with every fiber of my being above all else in the world."

THE KITCHEN CABINET
If not to fly, why has the robin wings, While the green desert dares him to be free; Why does he yearn to reach remotest things, The mountain's rim—if it were not to be?

SEASONABLE DISHES.

We really do not know how to cook vegetables unless we can make them both edible and attractive; not unless we can conserve every fraction of their food value and are so familiar with their composition that we can develop it by cookery. The really efficient cook wastes nothing—neither the vegetable itself, the water in which it is cooked, nor even the parings or tops. So says the expert dietician, Ida Bailey Allen.

Scalloped Beans.—Butter a baking dish and add two cupfuls of white sauce or a tomato sauce to four cupfuls of cooked string beans, with one small chopped onion. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Braised New Cabbage.—Melt one-fourth cupful of sweet fat in a saucepan, add two green apples and two onions finely chopped; cook gently for three minutes, then turn in one good sized cabbage, shredded, three cloves, one-half cupful of vinegar, one tablespoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Cover tightly and simmer for two and one-half hours.

Coconut Sponge.—Scant half an envelope of granulated gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water. Make a custard of two cupfuls of milk, three eggs, one-third of a cupful of sugar; cook until smooth and thick, remove from the heat and add the gelatin. When the mixture begins to set add one cupful of shredded coconut, a few grains of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Use just the yolks in the custard, beat the whites stiff and fold in at the last. Line a mold with sections of orange, pour in and chill.

Corn Custards.—Mix one cupful of grated corn with three slightly beaten eggs; add one and one-half cupfuls of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a few dashes of paprika. Put into small molds and steam, covered with greased paper. After 20 minutes remove and serve with white or tomato sauce.

Peanut Almost Universal.

The native home of the peanut is supposed to be Brazil. From there it spread to Spain, Africa, China, Japan and India. It is called phindar in India, and goober in Africa. It was recognized and cultivated as a valuable agricultural product in those distant countries long before it was commercially grown at home.

Bad for the Debtor.

People of Siam are cautious about getting into debt. When a debtor is three months in arrears he can be seized by the creditor and compelled to work out his indebtedness. Should the debtor run away, his father, his wife or his children may be held in slavery until the debt is canceled.

Foolish Court Sentence.

One of the most frankly foolish and impossible sentences on record was that imposed upon a child murderer in Germany, who was tried at Griefswald in 1906. He was sentenced to be beheaded twice, then to receive two years' imprisonment, and finally to suffer the loss of all his political rights.

Hurricane Sweeps New Orleans Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—One man was killed in New Orleans and great damage which cannot be estimated at this hour was done along the Louisiana and Mississippi coasts by the hurricane which swept the coast line about mid-night and swept in a line down to Mobile, Ala.

Wires are down and all communication is cut off from New Orleans and it is impossible to get accurate data as to whether any lives were lost. A train on the Louisville and Nashville railroad was marooned and nothing has been heard from it. The big railroad bridge at Rigoletts is reported badly damaged and no trains are running on the Louisville and Nashville lines between here and Mobile. The wind reached a velocity of 45 miles an hour in New Orleans. Wires, fences, trees and some buildings were blown down. John MacFaul was caught in a live wire blown down, and electrocuted. Louisville and Nashville officials reported great damage done to their lines. Mobile reported a rising tide this morning.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22.—The Caribbean Sea hurricane reported winding its way along the gulf coast has settled down and turned northeast after nearing the Texas coast. Major General Buell, weather observer here, declared today. He issued warnings that the hurricane was the same as a year ago when the hurricane struck the gulf states.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The danger to shipping in the gulf states from the hurricane which swept the Gulf of Mexico is over the Weather Bureau announce today. The storm is diminishing in intensity it was said.

POLITICAL BOMB WILL EXPLODE IN WASHINGTON LATTER PART OF WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Subpoena issued here tonight by the Senate committee investigating campaign funds constitute the first step in what the Republican campaign manager herald as a counter-move, that will completely discredit Governor Cox as a candidate for president.

The Republican emissaries, covering every move with secrecy, came to Washington today with evidence on what they style the "most startling development in the history of American politics." Following conferences with chairman, Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, the subpoena went out.

"It will kill one man politically here in Washington," was the statement made by one man handling the presentation of the case. Governor Cox's own charges of the raising of a $30,000,000 campaign fund, would, even if proven, dwindle in to insignificance, alongside of these developments, it was said. Clarence B. Miller, secretary of the Republican National Committee, who was in conference with the "evidence bearers" was likewise non-committal. He admitted that "something was coming," but refused to discuss even in a general way the nature of the revelation.

Admittedly it hinges upon the testimony of one man. Some suspicion that it might be Bernard Baruch, of New York, has been met with flat denials by those with knowledge. Apparently the plan is to hear this witness Thursday or Friday.

Tomorrow's session will be given over to cleaning up the tag end.

SOFT COAL OPERATORS WILL MAKE DECISION ON ULTIMATUM TOMORROW

President B. M. Clark, of Punxsutawney, has called a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Coal Operators Association for this district to meet in Punxsutawney tomorrow to consider the demands of the Policy Committee of the Miners.

The recent DuBois convention issued an ultimatum to the operators demanding a meeting within five days or a strike vote would be taken. The ultimatum expires on Friday and the question of meeting the miners will be discussed at Thursday's meeting.

WALL STREET BOMBERS ELUDE ALL EFFORTS OF OFFICERS IN PURSUIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Every investigating agency in the city continued today in their efforts to find some definite clue which would lead to those guilty of the explosion which shook lower Manhattan last Thursday. Department of Justice agents, police, experts in medicine and expert horse shoers were working on the case but had nothing new to report today. Appeal made to the people to return pieces of metal and wood picked up after the explosion revealed that souvenir hunters had gone away with valuable evidence.

REPORT RUSSIANS EVACUATED BAKU.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A Moscow wireless today reported the Poles had started a vigorous offensive in the Grodno region and that stubborn fighting was in progress. It was reported that the Russians had evacuated Baku.

THREE KILLED IN RAILROAD COLLISION.

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 22.—Three men were killed when two locomotives collided head on at Gaunter near the Cambria Steel Company this morning. The dead are Frank Bruneau, engineer, W. H. Walls, fireman, Charles M. Miller, brakeman. The collision resulted from a misunderstanding of signals which sent two heavily loaded freight trains crashing into each other on the same track.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY TO MEET HERE TOMORROW

Clearfield County Republican women are to have their first meeting at practical politics tomorrow at a meeting which has been called for tomorrow afternoon at the Hotel Dimeling and every woman in the district is invited to attend the session which will be addressed by prominent speakers. The exact hour of the meeting has not been set owing to the inability of those in charge to get in communication with State Headquarters as to the time the speaker is to spend here but the hour is tentatively set for 2 P. M. and it is believed that those who put in their appearance at that hour will strike it about right to hear the addresses.

County Chairman A. L. Edwards of Osceola and Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope have been procured to make addresses and both of these gentlemen are well fortified with Republican doctrine. Not the least of the interest will center in the expected visit from Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Chief of the Department of Forestry. Mrs. Pinchot has been an ardent political worker for several years and will have a strong message for the women of Clearfield County.

Every woman in Clearfield County who is interested in the success of the Harding-Coolidge ticket is invited to be present to hear Mrs. Pinchot at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. This meeting has been called by Mrs. Harry Boulton, woman member of the Republican State Committee, at the request of the State Committee.

In Speech to Indiana Delegation
Republican Nominee Declares
for Security at Home.

EUROPE HAS EVEN NOW
QUIT WILSON'S LEAGUE

Yet Democratic Party Leaders Would
Have Us Bound by Original Pact
With No American Safeguards.

"STEADY AMERICA!"

"Mindful of our splendid example and renewing every obligation of association in war, I want America to be the rock of security at home, resolute in righteousness and unalterable in security and supremacy of the law.

"Let us be done with wiggling and wobbling.

"Steady America! Let us assure good fortune to all."

—Senator Warren G. Harding in address before the Indiana delegation at Marion.

Marion, O. (Special).—Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President, in a speech delivered to a delegation from Indiana which called on him here to pledge the support of Indiana Republicans, declared that twice President Wilson had an opportunity to obtain ratification of the League of Nations covenant and that he put ratification aside because he would not accept reservations designed solely to safeguard American rights. Senator Harding said:

"I greet you in a spirit of rejoicing; not a rejoicing in the narrow personal or partisan sense, not in the gratifying prospect of party triumph; not in the contemplation of abundance in the harvest fields and ripening corn fields and maturing orchards; not in the reassuring approach of stability after a period of wiggling and wobbling which magnified our uncertainty—though all of these are ample for our wide rejoicing—but I rejoice that America is still free and independent and in a position of self-reliance and holds to the right of self-determination, which are priceless possessions in the present turbulence of the world.

"Let us suppose the senate had ratified the peace treaty containing the league covenant as submitted to it by the president in July of last year, what would be the situation confronting our common country today? To my mind there is but one answer. Before this day we would have been called upon to fulfill the obligations which we had assumed under Article 10 of the league covenant, to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland 'as against external aggression'.

Sympathy for Poland.

"I shall not now attempt to measure the boundless sympathy for the just aspirations and restored independence of Poland. Our present concern is the international situation which Poland has brought to our attention. 'The council of the League of Nations would have reasoned, and reasoned correctly, that the United States could furnish the munitions and, if necessary, the men to withstand the hordes advancing from Russia far more easily than could the exhausted nations of Europe. Moreover, inasmuch as this would be the first test of the scheme of world government which was formulated and demanded by the President, speaking for the United States, the fact of a special responsibility, resting upon our shoulders, manifestly would have been undeniable. Undoubtedly the league council, in 'advising upon the means' by which the obligations to Poland should be fulfilled, as provided in the covenant, would have so held, and probably the conscience of America, certainly the opinion of the world, would have sustained that judgment.

"The conclusion that our country might now be confronted by such a situation, if the senate had ratified the league covenant, requires no stretch of the imagination. None can deny that it is possible. To many candid minds, as to my own, such a distressing situation will seem highly probable. Let us assume that the ratification had taken place. Let us assume, further, that the performance of the allotted task required the waging of war upon the Russian people, as, of course, it would, what would result? What would of necessity have to result? Nothing necessarily, we are glibly informed, since only the Congress can declare war, and the Congress might reject the appeal of the executive. But would the Congress do that? Could the Congress do that without staining indelibly the honor of the nation?

Answer is "No."

"I answer 'No,' and I say it not on any such flimsy ground. Back of me

SHORT SHRIFT FOR SMART ALEC WHO RILED THE COURT

Gino Ponjelli of Coalport, was convicted in criminal court yesterday afternoon on a charge of failing to support an illegitimate child. When the jury had returned its verdict Ponjelli was haled before the Bar for sentence. Judge Bell asked the defendant what he proposed to do toward the supporting the child. Ponjelli had been Americanized sufficient to cause him to employ the Yankee style of answering another one, countering by saying "What is this one woman going to do about paying me for my two days and my expense attending this court."

Judge Bell was sort of nonplussed for a moment, but it was just a moment. With anger in his voice and a choleric flush overspreading his features, the Judge rasped out, "Well, young man; I don't know whether she is going to do anything about it or not, but I do know what I am going to do about it. I am going to sentence you to pay a fine of $500 and undergo imprisonment in the penitentiary for the next six calendar months and you will stand committed until this sentence is complied with."

The court's ready response sort of knocked the wind out of Ponjelli and as he was leaving the court room in the custody of the sheriff Judge Bell relented long enough to notify him he would have the coming week to think it over and if he could think up some way of providing for the child's future welfare he might suspend the sentence.

ROAD HOG IS SAID TO BE RESPONSIBLE FOR AUTO MISHAP

Howard Knarr, son of Martin Knarr, of near Troutville, is lying at the home of his brother, Charles Knarr of Troutville in a serious condition the result of an automobile accident Friday evening last.

The young man, aged 21 years, with four others started from Troutville at about 6:30 Friday evening for the farm of William Koehler, about a mile south of the town. Koehler's house having been destroyed by fire that afternoon. When passing the hotel at Troutville they met another car going in the opposite direction. The approaching car was speeding and seemed inclined to keep the middle of the road. Just before reaching the car driven by young Knarr the driver of the other auto swerved sharply out of fear that his car would be struck Knarr also turned off the road almost at right angle. The car turned over on its side throwing all the occupants out. Knarr was picked up in an unconscious condition and after receiving medical attention at the hotel was taken to the home of his brother nearby. He remained unconscious until late yesterday afternoon and is still in a stupor. It is feared his skull is fractured and his condition is most critical.

The driver of the auto who was responsible for the accident is said to have turned off his lights and speed out of town without stopping.

LITTLE CHANGE IN CONDITION OF LORD MAYOR

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Little change was apparent in the condition of Terence MacSwiney the hunger striking Lord Mayor of Cork as he entered the 41st day of his fasting. Relatives commented bitterly on the English newspaper reports of MacSwiney's condition. They declared it was "an attempt to travel the offerings of MacSwiney."

WOMEN HOLD THE BALANCE OF POWER

Maine Election Proves That
the Women Vote Will Decide
Who is to be President

WILL VOTE ON ISSUE ALONE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 22.—About 9,000,000 women will vote in the November election and they undoubtedly hold the balance of political power. This statement is based on a computation made from the woman's vote in the Maine election.

About 80,000 women voted in the Maine Election. Based upon the census of 1910 that number is 32 percent of the number of women 21 years of age who live in Maine. The Maine women number, according to the census, 248,309.

In the United States, according to the latest census statistics, there are 26,883,566 women of voting age. If the ratio of 32 percent which existed in the Maine election prevails in all the States, and it probably will as the women generally will want to vote for the first time, there will be cast in the November election an aggregate woman vote of 8,602,741, or nearly nine millions. In the Northern States the percentage will be higher, and in the Southern States lower because in the "Solid South" the black man is largely disfranchised, and the negro women will receive the same political discrimination in that section. But the Nation's average probably will be about 32 percent, which will give nine millions.

Similar statistics show that there are 29,577,890 men of voting age in the election of 1916 there were cast 18,528,743 ballots, 62 percent of the total male population 21 years of age. It can hardly be expected that so large a percentage of the women will vote, but it may be safely said that at least 32 percent of them will.

Therefore it is evident to all observers that the women now hold the political balance of power. In the Maine election about 75 percent of the women voted the Republican ticket. If that percentage should prevail in all the States north of the Mason and Dixon line and in the West a republican landslide of unprecedented magnitude would occur. That landslide is confidently expected by the Republican managers and indeed in Washington is practically already acknowledged by Democratic observers.

But it will not require 75 percent of the nine million women voting the Republican ticket to cause a landslide to Harding and Coolidge. If 32 percent of the women voters in New York participate in the election it will add nearly a million votes in the Empire State. In 1916 Hughes carried New York by more than 100,000, the total vote being 1,706,354. Had the women voted then a 100,000 plurality would have been increased several times over.

In Pennsylvania a 32 percent ratio would have added nearly 750,000 woman's votes to the total of nearly 1,300,000 cast for Hughes in 1916. Hughes carried Pennsylvania by 181,950, or about one fourth of the women votes that may be cast in Pennsylvania in November.

Wilson carried Ohio in 1916 by 89,003. In Ohio the 32 percent ratio means nearly half a million women all vote, eleven times Wilson's plurality in 1916.

There can be no question but that the women now hold the key to the national political situation and can throw victory to Republicans or Democrats. Judging from the way they voted in the Maine election it would seem that a great majority of the newly enfranchised citizens are preparing to line up throughout the country, except in the South, for Harding and Coolidge.

Every intelligent observer must agree that the result in Maine was a complete repudiation of the League of Nations by the women, and a tremendous Republican victory, which a ominous of Democratic defeat in November. Women can justly claim a great share of the victory in Maine. Had the women voted for the League, the victory would have been equally significant of democratic victory in November.

There is something wrong with the mental twist of a man who admits that he likes restaurant pie.

Nearly every man imagines if he was making a lot of money most of his troubles would disappear.

A person may invent a lie that looks good to him, but it is another thing to get others to accept it.

The politicians who want to make hay while the sun shines will not waste any time taking straw votes.

One of the effects of the high cost of eating is the keenness with which an appetite can get into action.

The man who can come across with his campaign subscription without becoming cross is a real party patriot.

Many a man has failed to be elected to office because he talked about so many things he knew little about.

Most persons would give up the thrills of being able to make music on the saxophone if they could learn to play on the horn of plenty.

Almost any juvenile court judge can tell you that Solomon's methods of raising children have gone out of style.

A lot of things which are sold throughout the country as securities are not as secure as they are reputed to be.

There are some folks who seem to be disappointed if things do not turn out as badly as they imagined they would.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who stopped his newspaper and then waited to see the announcement that the publisher had failed?

MAKE SUCH CRIMES IMPOSSIBLE

The necessity of taking steps to make a repetition of the crime more difficult is no less important than the apprehension and conviction of the plotters responsible for the explosion of the bomb near J. P. Morgan & Co.'s New York office, with appalling toll of life and destruction of property.

First there should be a careful scrutiny of the regulations dealing with the manufacture and transportation of explosives for the purpose of ascertaining if they contain loopholes that should be closed against anarchists and other criminals who desire to use them for nefarious purposes. Possession of T. N. T., with which the bomb was loaded, makes the possessor such a potential, if not actual, menace to the safety of those in his vicinity that none should be allowed to have it except by government license. This would work no hardship, for a vast majority of the people never have use for T. N. T., and those who have legitimate reasons for using it should not object to setting forth in detail what they propose to do with it. If a record were available of all possessors of this dangerous substance, the task of tracing that used in the wall street blast would be greatly simplified.

It was no mere coincidence that this explosion occurred on that particular and famous thoroughfare known as Wall street and that the greatest damage was wrought to the building of a banking firm of worldwide reputation. For many years "Wall street" has been held up by professional demagogues before impressionable minds as the center and fount of all evil. The easiest way to gain the applause, and often the votes, of the ignorant is to assail the "money devils" of "Wall street." The great financial establishments which have their headquarters in that district have been pilloried by street corner orators and by political, stump speakers as the strongholds of special privilege and corruption, fortresses of money lords whose powers extend throughout the country to rob and oppress the "common people."

But terrible as has been the toll of this latest tragedy, the hearts of men are made only stronger by terrorism. Even had the explosive wiped out the entire firm of Morgan and leveled the sub-treasury to the curb, men would merely set about to build again, grimly and more securely than before. A world unshaken before the hundred thousand belching guns of Prussianism will not be frightened by the solitary act of a pervert.

It all goes to show that society is, after all, more primitive than we think, else it would be able to prevent such outrageous occurrences. And it shows, too, that society is more stable than we think, for, in the dark, it is unafraid.

SPECIAL ADDED ATTRACTIONS

JEWISH HOLIDAY.

Jewish residents of the city are today celebrating the Day of Atonement or "Yom Kippur," the tenth day of the month of Tishri. The day begins at sunset yesterday and ends at sunset this evening. The thought underlying the day is expressed in the scriptural word: "On this day he will atone for you, to purify you from your sins." It is a day, therefore, of reconciliation of man with his fellow-man and with God, and comes as a climax to the holiday season which began Sunday September 12th with the New Year's Day and continued through the ten days of penitence. Local Hebrews worshiped today at special services in the Mik rooms.

unsheathed the sword some eighteen years ago for the first time in the history of the world, in the name of humanity, and we gave proof to the world at that time of an unselfish nation. Now, whether it is the fate, or fortune, or travail of destiny, it has come to us to unsheath the sword again, not alone for humanity's sake, through that splendid inspiration will be involved—but to unsheath the sword against a great power in the maintenance of the rights of the republic, in the maintenance which will give to us a new guaranty of nationality. That's the great thing, and I want it known, Mr. President and senators, that this is the impelling thought with me for one, when I cast my vote.

For Same Guaranty Today.

"It is for that same guaranty of nationality that I stand today, and still continue to stand indelibly, so long as I shall be permitted to live. The independence of our great republic is to me a priceless and sacred inheritance. Time was when an American did not hesitate to proclaim himself a patriot. To do so now, I am well aware, is sometimes to invite the sneers of cynicism. But why should any true American not be free to say: 'I am a patriot, wholly devoted to my country, which I hold to be God's best inspiration to man for higher attainment and the promotion of the world's best civilization?'"

"But I have a special reason for making this reference today. I challenge the statement that the patriotism which holds American first comprehends either narrowness or selfishness, or as implying such suspicion and jealousy of other peoples."

"To assert, as some have asserted needlessly, that those of us who honestly believe that America can best serve all mankind as America, free and untrammeled, rather than as one in a probable minority among many states in merged world government, lack consciousness of the rightful demands of humanity, is to utter a gross and unpardonable libel. To attribute meanness to those of us who, in the performance of our public duty, refused to participate in what we sincerely regarded as a betrayal of our own country in the interest of others, is to discredit the intelligence and discrimination of the great mass of American people who directly, by their votes, put us in our positions of trust. For myself, I yield to no man a willingness now, in eagerness, to contribute my share to the assistance of the stricken peoples of Europe. I include all of them and speak with a genuinely sympathetic heart, whether it is to mention devastated France, or sorely-tried Italy, or nobly-struggling Poland, or distracted and misguided Russia, or gallant little Belgium, or pitifully deceived Austria, or the ruthless invader, Germany, which came to the supreme tragedy through a leadership which brought disaster to her misguided people."

"It was with that feeling of sympathy and desire to serve, that most reluctantly and with grave misgivings, as I announced at the time, I with reservations designed to preserve our essential liberty of action. The record is made, and under the same conditions, confronted by the same alternative, I should vote now as I voted then."

Conditions Have Changed.

"But the conditions have changed. Experience has brought enlightenment. We know now that the league constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventive of wars. It is so obviously impotent that it has not even been tried. The original league, mistakenly conceived and unreasonably insisted upon, has undoubtedly passed beyond the possibility of restoration. The manner judgment of the world will be that it deserved to pass for the very simple reason that, contrary to all of the tendencies developed by the civilizing processes of the world, it rested upon the power of might, not of right."

"The assertion is made frequently that through the surrender of our nationality we might have saved the life of the covenant—that is to say, that, although twenty-eight nations could not make it function, one added to the twenty-eight would have achieved a glowing success, provided, always, that the one were America."

"This pays to America the tribute of exceptional influence, but I suggest that if the world is dependent upon our action to bring about the supreme realization, then we ought to have the say about our own freedom in participating therein. But let us consider what is meant by this reliance upon America. What can it signify if not that it is to the United States, and to the United States alone, that the other twenty-eight nations look for the bene-

and shew, the money, the munitions and the men to sustain the entire organization, not as an agency of peace, but as an armed force?"

A Telling Admission.

"A few days ago a delegation of an organization which calls itself a Society for the Prevention of War appeared to the premier of Great Britain to unite and use the powers of the world in defense of Poland, Armenia and the Dardanelles. The British premier replied, according to his remarks quoted by the newspapers, to the effect that, while the formation of 'an international army' would be 'an ideal solution,' it could not be accomplished because the European nations could not furnish the troops and the United States had 'withdrawn from co-operation'—a polite and diplomatic phrase and more exactly meaning, of course, that the senate of the United States had not completed the partial obligation assumed by the President to do that very thing—that is, to 'furnish the troops.' Could a clearer indication of what would have been expected of this country as a member of the league be desired? Hardly. Some, too, think, or say they think, that this extraordinary service should be rendered. I do not agree with them, but, assuming that they are right, I venture to note that nothing stands in the way of performance. The President has only to call upon Congress to declare war, and to confer upon him specific authority to raise armies for the protection of the powers which, though recently associated with, are still foreign to our own republic."

"It is reasonably safe to assume, however, that the President will not pursue this course. Fortunately, he is under no 'compelling moral obligation' under the league to do so. His recent unhappy experience, moreover, in asking Congress to send American boys to police Armenia would hardly encourage repetition of a request already courteously but quite firmly declined by the Congress. What then, in like circumstances, would be the answer of the British premier himself? In his own words, addressing a meeting of the Coalition Liberals on August 12 last, according to the press reports, he said:

"When the terrible question of peace or war has to be decided, our first duty as a government is to the people, who trust us not to commit their treasure to any unjustifiable adventure. Nothing but the most imperative call of national honor, national safety and national freedom can justify war. Before this country is committed to it, even in the most limited form, we must be satisfied that these are in peril."

"I quote these telling words, my countrymen, with the utmost satisfaction, because with one amendment they express to a nicety my own position. I take for granted that the prime minister meant to include in 'treasure' the greatest treasure of all but, for myself, I should leave nothing else to be safeguarded by those of us who hold the trust of the people. It goes without saying, but cannot be too often repeated, is the manhood of the nation."

Will Not Misuse Power.

"Now, it may appear to you that I have been speaking chiefly in the negative. I make the admission. What is more, I might continue to do so almost indefinitely without disadvantage to our cause. So many things have been done by the present expiring administration that no power on earth could induce me to do, that I cannot even attempt to recount them. I may remark casually, however, that if I should be, as I fully expect to be, elected President of this just and honorable republic, I will not empower an assistant secretary of the navy to draft a constitution for helpless neighbors in the West Indies and jam it down their throats at the point of bayonets borne by United States marines. We have a higher service for our gallant marines than that. Nor will I misuse the power of the executive to cover with a veil of secrecy repeated acts of unwarranted interference in domestic affairs of the little republics of the western hemisphere, such as in the past few years have not only made enemies of those who should be our friends, but have rightfully discredited our country as their trusted neighbor."

Will Submit to No Wrong.

"On the other hand, I will not or shall not, as you prefer, submit to any wrong against any American citizen, with respect to either his life or his property, by any government. This statement is made in all solemnity, with civility for none and friendship for all. If it particularly applies to Mexico, the application has been directed by the robbery and murder of hundreds of our own people in that unhappy country who were lawfully there and were entitled to protection. One must admit that these outrages upon Americans are largely the consequence of the wiggling and wobbling, the supine waiting of our own government, though the admission neither helps the hurt, nor gives the hope of security for the future while the present administration remains in power, or when one in 'complete accord' succeeds it."

"This admonition is not directed exclusively toward our next door neighbor to whom we would gladly hold forth a helping hand, and whom primarily, certainly in preference to far off peoples in Europe, Asia and Africa, it is our manifest duty to serve with a whole heart and generous tolerance. It is intended for a plain notice to every government on the face of the earth that the entire resources of this nation are pledged to maintain the sacredness of American lives and the just protection of American properties."

Line of Demarcation Plain.

"The line of demarcation between our attitude and that of our political opponents is perfectly plain. The president has made his position clear by his acts no less than by his words. Twice there came to him an opportunity to obtain ratification at the hands of the senate and twice he put the opportunity aside, because he would not accept reservations designed to limit the power of the executive."

WORRY AND WRINKLES

Despondency is a thing of evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put a note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, "Don't Worry"

Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.

A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are to a woman's body the telegraph system which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up. Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the ideal woman's tonic for such conditions. When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land. Put up in tablets or liquid.

ALTOONA, PA.—"I used to suffer a great deal with backaches and inward weakness, and I became run-down and very nervous. One of my neighbors recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to me and I took it with very satisfactory results; my backaches left me and I have had no return of inward weakness. I am no longer nervous, but in perfect health, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. ROSE ROWLES, 1324 14th Avenue.

MANY PEOPLE REPORT BIG GAINS IN WEIGHT

Thousands of Thin, Frail People Are Restored To Health and Strength By Tanlac.

MANY REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE TOLD

People in All Walks of Life Tell What Celebrated Medicine Has Done For Them.

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with Tanlac and that one that stands out more prominently than any other perhaps, is the very large number of well-known men and women from all parts of the country who have recently reported astonishing and rapid increases in weight as a result of its use.

When so many well-known people of unquestioned integrity make statement after statement each corroborating the other, the truth of such statements can no longer be doubted.

Thousands have testified that this famous medicine has completely restored them to health and strength, after every other medicine and the most skilled medical treatment have failed.

Mrs. F. Davis, 55 Beaty Ave., Toronto, Ontario, says:

"I have changed so much for the better that when friends meet me on the street they don't know me, and my wonder, for I have gained thirty pounds in weight. I was a sick woman for ten years and then a severe shock shattered my nervous system and I had a complete breakdown. The first thing Tanlac did was to make me sleep better and soon my appetite improved and I began to eat as I hadn't done for years. My whole condition steadily improved and I gained in strength and weight rapidly. For ten years I have been trying to find something to restore my health, so you can imagine how thankful I am for what Tanlac has done for me."

Kansas Farmer Talks
H. W. Boring a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park Kansas, says:

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past. During the two years I suffered, I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac and it seemed made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion what I eat, I never suffer any bad what I eat, I never suffer any bad after effects."

One of the most remarkable cases on record is that of Mrs. Viola Ives, of 315 Cross street, Little Rock, Ark. whose statement appears below:

"In May of 1913," said Mrs. Ives, "I suffered a complete breakdown of my nerves and my entire system gave way. About six weeks afterwards I was carried to the hospital. I became perfectly helpless -- couldn't move any part of my body and just lay there in bed for five months, not knowing anything or anybody. I was brought home in October, 1913, and tried all kinds of medicine and everything I was told about.

"I read about so many people getting relief by taking Tanlac and my husband got me a bottle. After taking three bottles I began to feel better. I have taken several bottles of Tanlac now and I can walk anywhere and sleep like a child. When I took my first dose of Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and twenty-two pounds. I now weigh one hundred and sixty-two—an actual gain of forty pounds since I started on Tanlac."

Maize Man Testifies
Samuel Holloway 98 Elm St., Portland, Maine, a well-known resident of Portland for forty years, says:

"Before I started taking Tanlac I was almost a complete physical wreck and had lost so much weight I was scarcely more than a frame, but I had not been taking it long before I began to pick up, and I gained twenty pounds in a short time. For a year past I had scarcely any appetite to speak of and I had not any sleep at night. I was so badly run down and weak I could not get any work as I was barely able to get out of bed. After the other, I now feel twenty years younger than I was before taking Tanlac and am enjoying the best of health."

MRS. CHAS. PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Was Twice Examined and Told Operation Would Be Her Only Hope

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds" was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Charles Peden residing at 559 Mill Street Huntsville, Ala.

"When I began taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight (98) pounds; now I weigh 125 pounds, and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture, and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope.

"I had made all preparations for the operation and called in my sister to tell her good-bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and pleaded with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for awhile. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room, I thought of what she said, and as I had heard so much about Tanlac, I decided to try it and get a bottle."

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once.

"I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel as if I have been made all over again into a new woman."

Another remarkable case was that of John M. Crabtree a general merchant of Five Mile Station A, Dallas, Texas:

"I have actually gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy good health after suffering for twenty years," said Mr. Crabtree.

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months, before I started taking Tanlac, I had to live almost entirely on cereals. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and was unable to do anything at all and I fell off in weight to 118 pounds.

"After using my third bottle of Tanlac I found I had increased in weight from 118 pounds to 152 pounds making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like another man."

Captain Jeff D. Riggs, popular Y. & M. V. engineer, running between Vicksburg and New Orleans and residing at 2029 Pearl street, Vicksburg, in speaking of his experience with Tanlac, said: "Yes, sir, it's an actual fact, I have gained twenty-five pounds on Tanlac."

"When I began taking the medicine" continued Captain Riggs, "I was simply a nervous and physical wreck and had dropped down in weight from one hundred and forty to one hundred and ten pounds."

"I have just finished my second bottle of Tanlac, have gained twenty-five pounds and I feel like a new man."

Thousands of other people all over the country have reported the same astonishing gains in weight after taking Tanlac. Among these are: Mrs. E. O. Wilson, of 197 Bass St., Atlanta, Ga., who gained 25 pounds; Mrs. W. C. Cochran, of Juliaetta, Idaho, who gained 22 pounds; Mrs. Doll Davis, of 108 Sannet Ave., Peoria, Ill., who gained 30 pounds; Charles E. Shaffer, 508 W. Charleston St., Portland, Ore., who gained 24 pounds; Mrs. Amelia Mann, R. F. D. No. 2, Ogden Utah, who gained 25 pounds; W. S. Hukill, 7308 Park Ave., Tacoma, Wash., who gained 20 pounds; Mrs. B. W. Smith, 3115 Burdett St., Omaha, Neb., who gained 35 pounds; Fred W. Samuels, 710 Market street, San Francisco, Cal., who gained 24 pounds, and many others, too numerous to mention.

Tanlac is sold by all leading druggists.

HARDING GLAD AMERICANS ARE A FREE PEOPLE

ed solely to safeguard American rights. He still holds Article 10 to be the heart of the covenant. So does the Democratic platform. So does the Democratic nominee. To assume that the nominee would accept the reservations rejected by the President and denounced by the party platform is to impugn his integrity. To insinuate, as those who in proclaiming themselves for the Democratic candidate and the league with reservations' do insinuate that he would pursue such a course in seeking ratification is not to pay him a compliment, but rather to challenge his sincerity.

"For myself I do not question for a moment the truth of what the Democratic nominee says on this subject. He has flatly said he is 'in favor of going in' on the basis announced by the President. I am not. That is the whole difference between us, but it is a most vital one, because it involves the disparity between a world court of justice supplemented by a world association for conference, on the one hand, and the council of the league, on the other.

The Difference.
"The difference between a court of international justice and the council created by the league covenant is simple but profound.

"The one is a judicial tribunal to be governed by fixed and definite principles of law administered without passion or prejudice. The other is an association of diplomats and politicians whose determinations are sure to be influenced by considerations of expediency and national selfishness.

"I do not mean to say, nor do I mean to permit any such construction, that I would decline to co-operate with other nations in an honest endeavor to prevent wars. Nobody living would take that position. The only question is one of method or of practicability within the bonds prescribed by fundamental principles.

"There are distinctly two types of international relationship. One is an offensive and defensive alliance of great powers, like that created at Versailles, to impose their will upon the helpless peoples of the world. Frankly, I am opposed to such a scheme as that, and I speak knowingly when I say that the associated powers, with whom we fought the war, were reluctant to accept such a proposition.

"I am opposed to the very thought of our republic becoming a party to so great an outrage upon other peoples, who have as good a right to seek their political freedom as we had in 1776 and have the same right to developing entrance under the inspiration of nationality as we held for ourselves.

The Other Type.
"The other type is a society of free nations, or an association of free nations, or a league of free nations, animated by considerations of right and justice, instead of might and self-interest, and not merely proclaimed agency in pursuit of peace, but so organized and so participated in as to make the actual attainment of peace a reasonable possibility. Such an association I favor with all my heart, and I would make no fine distinction as to whom credit is due.

"This is proposing no new thing. This country is already a member of such a society—The Hague tribunal, which, unlike the league of Versailles, is still functioning, and within a few weeks will resume its committee sessions under the chairmanship of an American representative.

"In that body we have the framework of a really effective instrumentality of enduring peace. The fact that the tribunal did not prevent the great war is, of course, manifest, but the cause of the failure is no less apparent. Germany, already secretly determined upon a ruthless invasion, was able to prevent the adoption of measures which might have proved effectual. The condition now is wholly different. Not only Germany, but the entire world has profited to the extent of an awful object lesson, the impression of which cannot be erased from the human mind for generations to come. The horrors of war and the eagerness for peace have become universal. What once seemed at The Hague to be a mere academic discussion has become a positive, outstanding need of facing terrifying actualities. This makes vastly easier the task of so strengthening The Hague tribunal as to render its just decrees either acceptable or enforceable. It is not uncommon for the advocates of the league of Versailles to contrast unfavorably The Hague tribunal upon the ground that the tribunal 'lacks teeth.'

Let's Install the Teeth.
"Very well, then, let's put teeth into it. If, in the failed league of Versailles, there can be found machinery which the tribunal can use properly and advantageously, by all means let it be appropriated. I would even go further. I would take and combine all that is good and excuse all that is bad from both organizations. This statement is broad enough to include the suggestion that if the league which has heretofore riveted our considerations and apprehensions, has been so entwined and interwoven into the peace of Europe, that its good must be preserved in order to stabilize the peace of that continent, then it can be amended or revised so that we may still have a remnant of world aspirations in 1918 builded into the world's highest conception of helpful co-operation in the ultimate realization.

"I believe humanity would welcome the creation of an international association for conference and a world court whose verdicts upon justiciable questions, this country in common with all nations would be both willing and able to uphold. The decision of such a court or the recognition

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21—The Pennsylvania state highway department has accomplished more in road building during the present season than has been accomplished in any other state east of the Mississippi river, according to J. F. Mixer "road scout," for the Automobile Blue Book, who was in Harrisburg recently.

Since road construction commenced this spring 165 miles of new road have been built in Pennsylvania and 50 miles of base on which the surface will be put down within a short time. It was announced by officials of the highway department.

"In a great many states all constructive work because of the inability of highway officials to obtain materials and transportation, has been stopped," Mixer said.

This state has had comparatively little difficulty in securing not only all needed materials but sufficient labor from the surplus in this state to carry out its road building program to the letter, the highway department announced.

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representative of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

RED CROSS NURSES ENLARGING SCOPE OF PUBLIC GOOD

Plans for Red Cross public health nursing in the Clearfield Chapter are rapidly taking definite form under the efficient direction of Miss Smythe our supervising nurse. At present there are two nurses in the field Miss Witherow and Miss Lochard who are going the grounds of the township schools with the doctors helping with the physical examinations for the purpose to follow up work. It is hoped that all of the schools in the Chapter will be visited before Winter sets in. Miss Smythe is at the Grampian Fair this week conducting a Red Cross emergency booth for first aid treatment in case of sickness or accident. She will also distribute literature and talk to the mothers in regard to the public health program of the American Red Cross as it affects the Clearfield Chapter. At the Clearfield County Fair, Sept. 28-29-30 Oct. 1 the Red Cross will provide a tent which will be used as a Rest Room for tired mothers with their babies. There will be cribs and bassinets provided for the children. Appliances for heating milk and a nurse will always be in charge who will talk to the mothers.

"MOVE the freight!" is the cry of the day. The need of increased transportation and its vital relation to the welfare of the country were never so widely appreciated as now. It should be encouraging to the public to know that the railroads are fast getting back into their old stride.

During the month of August the New York Central Lines moved from stations and connecting lines 927,329 loaded cars. This is an increase of 53,129 cars over the same month of 1919, and the greatest number of loaded cars moved in any month of this year.

Prevailing conditions have brought especially heavy and imperative demands for transportation of basic necessities, particularly coal and ore.

These lines moved during the month of August, 27,667 cars of ore; an increase of 15,227 over the month of August, 1919, and by far the biggest movement of any month this year.

COAL loaded at mines on these lines during the month of August totalled 63,011 cars, an increase of 5,134 over the corresponding period of last year, and the heaviest loading of any month of the present year.

This performance, made possible by the earnestness and determination of New York Central workers, indicates the spirit as well as the physical strength of the system. Backed by larger investment and with the delivery of the new equipment now under construction, even these records will ultimately be surpassed.
